THOMAS F. RYAN NOT CANDIDATE FOR TOGA OF SENATOR DANIEL

Says He Is Not Accustomed to Wait for Dead Men's Shoes.

DEPARTS FOR EUROPE

Denies Reports That He Is Ill or on Verge of Nervous Collapse.

New York, June 22.—Thomas F. Ryan, traction magnate and multimillionaire, departing to-day for Europe on the Mauretania, declared that he had no further interest in politics, and denied the report that he was a candidate for United States Senator from Virginia.

Mr. Ryan, usually reticent to a degree, in the light of his affairs and the general financial outlook.

"Concerning the report that I am on the verge of collapse from nervous prostration," he said, "I may say that I have not had to consult my doctor for four and a half months. I sleep like a baby."

"I like my new life since I throw off the tyranny of details. While I keep myself very busy in New York, I do not permit things, either big or little, to worry me."

Congress in Great Country.

"Of all my business concerns, that which most interests me now is the Congo development. I expect to give a great deal of attention to it. It is not at all unlikely that I shall make a visit there."

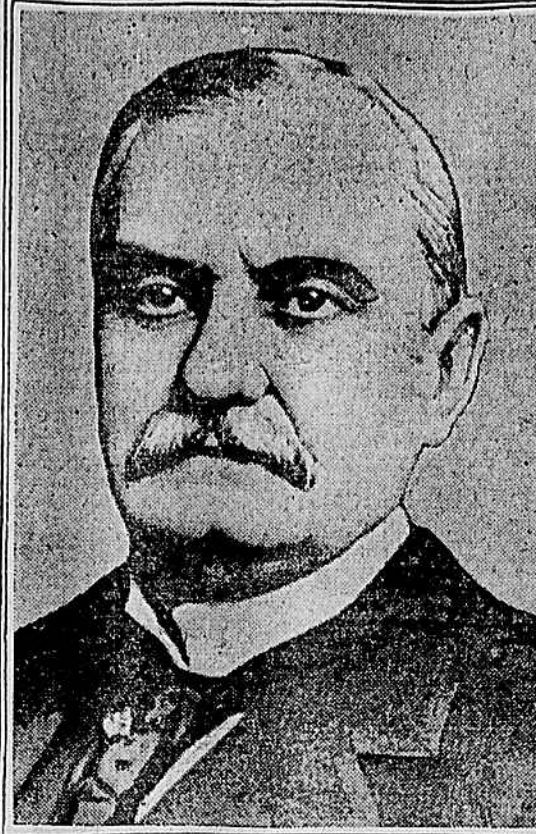

"I am interested not only in the industrial development of the Congo, but in the country which it contains."

"As for politics, I have never been interested in them. I have never been a candidate for office, either by election or appointment."

"There is no truth in the report that I am a candidate to become United States Senator from Virginia to succeed Senator Daniel. I have never been accustomed to wait to step into dead men's shoes."

"I have long been a close personal friend of Senator Daniel. I hope he will be spared for many years to serve his State and his country."

Mr. Ryan will return about the middle of October, and will spend considerable time at his Virginia home.

THOMAS F. RYAN.

The war-time home of Vice-President Alexander H. Stephens, where the University College of Medicine stood; Libby Prison, at Twentieth and Cary Streets; Chimborazo Hospital, the site of which is now occupied by Chimborazo Park, Bureau of Exchange for Prisoners, on Ninth Street, fronting Bank and next to old Mechanics' Institute; St. Paul's Church, First Baptist Church and Woman's College, which were used as wartime hospitals; Robertson Hospital, at Third and Main Streets; and Seabrook Hospital, now Seabrook Warehouse; also the residences of Adjutant-General Cooper, Third and Grace Streets, now the home of Mrs. Junius Morris; of the Confederate Mayor, Joseph Mayo, 112 South Third Street, for some years past owned by Henry Lee Valentine.

The Cavalry Association of Northern Virginia sent to the society $30 to be used in marking the site of the house where General J. E. B. Stuart died.

The Confederate Memorial Literary Society has extended an invitation to the Virginia Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, for a day in October next, when the division will pass through Richmond to assemble in annual convention at Suffolk, Va.

Donations received yesterday by the society included two volumes of the correspondence of Jonathan Worth, State Treasurer and Governor of North Carolina, presented by his daughter, Mrs. E. E. Moffet; the commission of E. P. Brown, by his daughter, Mrs. B. A. Blenner; diary of John T. Merritt, loaned by his daughter, Daisy Neal Martin, through Mrs. Blenner; and a portrait of Colonel Elijah V. Grand State Rally for the Exemption of New Ritual of Beneficiary Order.

The grand state rally of the Virginia Order of the Ladies of the Macabees began yesterday afternoon in Fraternity Hall, in West Broad Street, with 100 delegates and as many members of the local hives present. The first meeting was of an initiatory nature, during which a class of forty candidates were initiated. Delegates from Norfolk, Portsmouth, Berkeley, Newport News, Roanoke, Lynchburg and Alexandria are here.

Last night, beginning at 8 o'clock, the real business of the rally was gone through, when Miss E. M. England, who presided over the meetings, conducted an exemplification of a new ritual for the Macabees. Over 200 Ladies of the Macabees were present.

This morning the visiting delegates will be the guests of the Richmond hives in a trolley ride about the city. The parties will go to every portion of the city traversed by the street cars. After the trolley ride refreshments will be served. In view of the fact that the rally is merely for the exemplification of the new ritual the teams from the various hives in the State will not give exhibition drills. The meetings are all secret.

The Ladies of the Macabees is a fraternal beneficiary society giving life protection to women exclusively. It has a membership of more than 150,000 members, and hives representing the order are in almost every State and Territory in the Union. The Virginia branches of the order are particularly well represented and active.

PLAINTIFF IS FINED

Fitts Made Mistake of His Life When He Had Workman Arrested.

John Fitts, colored, who was shot by Hugh Workman, also colored, in Henrico county last week, received the surprise of his life yesterday, when Magistrate Puryear dismissed the case against Workman and imposed a fine of $25 on Fitts for attacking Workman with a revolver.

As soon as he was arrested Workman engaged counsel, and appeared with one of the clearest cases of self-defense ever seen by Magistrate Puryear. It was proved that Fitts drew first and that Workman was forced to shoot to save himself.

Fitts's fine was paid, but he stated before he left the jail this morning that he wished that he had not had the warrant issued against Workman.
